

PMOffice was created with a single objective in mind: empowering business managers with effective decision-making frameworks and tools for success.

Our services and deliverables, anchored on a result-oriented methodology, will streamline the way you execute your projects while establishing the right mechanism to achieve and measure success. Whether you face challenges in setting a clear direction to your projects or re-aligning your daily operations with your business strategies, PMOffice consultants will contribute with substantial added value to reach your goals.

By combining our expertise across two distinct service offerings—Project Management Advisory and Enterprise Dashboard Design—we are able to meet the recurrent challenges managers face: ensuring projects completion on time within budget and expected quality, while gaining visibility through real-time insights on the progress of daily operations.

To deliver the maximum business value, our expertise includes:

Project Management Advisory

- Project planning, tracking and governance
- Process implementation and improvement
- Risk, change and cost management
- Communication and reporting structure
- Staff performance and resource management

Enterprise Dashboard Design

- Intuitive display of your strategic operational and financial information
- Visual insights on corporate trends and patterns
- Drill down capability to advanced analyses and views of key data
- Communicate corporate strategy via key performance indicators

Our iterative approach aims at reaching the full potential of your processes and resources. We thrive on the notion that measuring success is a crucial ingredient in sustaining excellence; and we consider that our key differentiator is complementing Project Management best practices with Dashboard design. We're committed to achieving the highest levels of client satisfaction through an innovative methodology that will value your vision, and simplify your business challenges and complexities.

Our business services will blend all the expertise you need to successfully plan and control your operations, reaching new heights in efficiency and profitability, while maximizing the leverage of your existing organizational infrastructure. Together, let's set out the route to reach sustainable excellence.
